The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Probably showers and cooler Saturday.

The Louisville Boosters will visit Hopkinsville the second week in October.

Charles W. Nagel, of Campbell county, was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Sixth district.

Ollie James has formally announced his candidacy for United States Senator to succeed Senator Thos. H. Paynter.

Jere S. Lillis, who was carved with a knife by John P. Cudahy after he was found in the Cudahy home at midnight, has returned to Kansas City.

Gov.-elect Fred Plaisted, of Maine, is 45 years old, a lifelong Democrat, a newspaper man, a Mason and an Elk, altogether a mighty fine combination.

Swift & Co., Armour & Co. and other Chicago packers have been indicted in Essex county, Massachusetts, on charge of giving short weights.

Charles D. Hiller, an employee of the Rock Island railroad, of Chicago, was shot and killed by a negro burglar while Mr. Hiller was defending his home from the intruder.

President Taft reached Cincinnati Thursday and will remain until Saturday, when he goes to Washington. The President is a guest at the home of his brother, C. P. Taft, who is in Europe at this time.

Answering criticisms of the absence of medical supplies, General Johnston says nine chests of medical supplies were sent to the Indiana camp and that the entire medical equipment allotted to Kentucky was on the train that was wrecked.

Capt. Nat T. Howard, Republican candidate for Congress in the Third district, has withdrawn on account of ill health. The district committee will make another nomination Sept. 26th. Where is the Hon. W. H. Jones, who used to be a standing candidate?

The Press dispatches announce that Hon. W. J. Bryan has become so ardent a prohibitionist that he has refused to speak for Jas. C. Dahlgren, the head of the Democrat ticket in Nebraska, because he is not in accord with his views on county option.

The Webster County Times, published at Clay, evidently has a "town knocker", a nuisance that no good town will put up with in these good times. It contains this editorial paragraph: "That knocker; pessimistic grouch; cross ways with everything, even to himself. What if we had a town full of them?"

In the Court of Appeals Monday the Attorney General filed a petition for rehearing in the case involving the constitutionality of the Special Circuit Judge act of the last Legislature. He also filed a transcript of the case involving the right of the State Board of Equalization to raise arbitrarily the taxable value of property in any county.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous services. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine, it is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney and Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

We are safely through the autumnal equinox and still the weather is fine.

Vivian M. Lewis, regular, was nominated for governor by the Republicans of new Jersey, the insurgents winning a fight on the platform in securing indorsement for the conferring of rate making power upon the public utilities commission. Now watch the landslide put Prof. Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic nominee, over the home plate in that trust-ridden State.

Mr. Bryan's refusal to support the Democratic nominee for Governor of Nebraska, a state where the Democrats need every vote they can get, is unfortunate. It is bound to hurt the great leader more than it will the Democratic party. This is the wrong time to bolt. The Democratic landslide has already begun to slide and the safest plan is to ride on it and not get in front of it.

Returns from the Minnesota primary election indicate that James A. Tawney, who has represented the first Minnesota district in congress since 1892, has been defeated for re-nomination by Sidney Anderson, a progressive. Anderson is a young lawyer of Lanesboro, and he made a straight out "insurgent" campaign against Tawney, chairman of the appropriations committee of the house and a leading "stand patter."

With a fortune estimated as high as $50,000,000, John S. Lytle, of New York, who will be ninety-three years old next month, has just taken a wife, whom he has established in his beautiful country home. The bride, who was Miss Julia Hannon, a trained nurse, is only thirty years old, and met her husband when she was sent from a hospital to care for his sister in law two years ago. The wife will inherit his entire fortune, as there were no children from his first marriage.

Referring to the fact that the docket books and other bound books used by the city of Hopkinsville are purchased from an Evansville company, the Caldwell County News contains this "gentle knock": "There must be a bad odor in Hopkinsville. When a town sends its printing away in to another state there is something wrong and very wrong." For the benefit of the editor of the News, who it is said will soon become a citizen of the city that is so "very wrong," it is proper to say that when he comes to Hopkinsville he will probably find the "bad odor" is not here.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa. — "I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I wrote to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that your medicines and kind letters of directions have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D., No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

JOE MORRIS

Joe Morris, a young man 21 years old, formerly of this city, who is in the employ of the Home Telephone Co. at Frankfort, was dangerously hurt yesterday while working on the line between Louisville and Frankfort. He fell from a pole or a pole fell upon him and it was at first thought he was killed. A later report was that he would probably survive his injuries. His brother, Fireman Ennis Morris, left at 11:30 to be with him.

Cotton In Hopkinsville.

Mr. J. Q. Gray, who lives on Kentucky avenue, has raised a few rows of cotton in his garden this year, as an experiment. The plants attained a height of two feet and the balls are now opening out, and look like the real article of cotton. In the extreme southwestern part of Kentucky a good deal of cotton is grown profitably.

TABLES TURNED ON PALMER

Inveterate Joker Gets Real Jolt When He Bumps up Against German.

A good story is told of Congressman H. W. (Hank) Palmer of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Hank has the reputation of being quite a story teller, and is at all times ready to spring something funny at the other fellow's expense, but it happened that this time Hank's joke was turned on himself.

It was back in the early eighties, when the scarf stickpins were so much in style. Hank purchased a conspicuously large pin, the design of which was a potato bug, green in color. When asked what it was, Hank would answer, "An Irish potato bug."

It was up to United States Commissioner Honn of the same town, who is a typical German, and very unassuming, to turn the joke on the funny Hank, who had been having a lot of fun with his Irish potato bug, till he ran across the little commissioner, who eyed the pin very closely, but failed to make any remark about it, fearing that Hank had some joke attached to it.

Honn was about to walk away, when Hank said to him: "Mr. Honn, what do you think of my new pin?"

Mr. Honn adjusted his heavy glasses, scrutinized the pin very closely, and asked: "Hank, vot iss dot?"

"That's an Irish potato bug," said Hank.

"Vell, vell," said the commissioner, "dot's der largest bug I efer see on such a small potato." — Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

WIFE GETS SEVERE SHOCK

Bundle of Receipts for Wardrobe Left by Father Arouses Painful Comparisons.

A woman who has been married seven years recently cleaned out a writing desk drawer that belonged to her father, whose death occurred a few months ago, and came across a bundle of receipts as big as a man's arm, tied with red tape and marked on the outside, "For Mary." She opened them and saw that they were receipts for her trousseau bills. The woman's best dress now is a 50-cent wool, made by herself, and she had worn it two years. When she read in the receipts of lace she had put on a corset cover that cost $1 a yard, she grabbed for a fan, but had a fit before she reached it. She revived somewhat, but again scattered rugs over the floor when she read that her wedding gloves cost her father $36 and her hose cost him $47.

She wears 15-cent hose now, and fairly foamed at the mouth when she realized that some of her wedding hose cost $3 a pair. And when she came across a receipt for $17 for embroidering a sheet she tore out all the hair she had pinned on her head and was beginning on that which grew there, when a merciful unconsciousness overtook her.

Her last thought was of the sum total of the trousseau, and those figures swimming before her eyes, and her husband's voice grumbling in the next room because the monthly gas bill was 30 cents more than a month ago, proved Too Much! She was Nineteen Hours Coming To.

SINGING CHARMS A SNAKE.

Singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," three women charmed a rattlesnake that had just crawled beneath a cushion, upon which one of them was seated, out on the Vale ranch, says a Salt Lake paper.

Mrs. F. P. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Allison and Mrs. W. A. Vale were seated on a lounge under the trees when Mrs. Dunlap perceived the snake. Instantly she thought of music charming reptiles and she whispered, "Let's sing." She commenced to hum the sacred air and the others, not knowing why, took it up. The snake, with head poised, paused and Mrs. Dunlap slowly arose and beckoned the others to follow, which they quietly did. After having gained a safe distance the others discovered what their danger had been. Armed with clubs, the women then killed the snake.

FAILURE.

"I never have my umbrella up when it's raining?" said the chronic grouch, "unless it's raining money." "And in that case," said the wise guy, "you wouldn't have sense enough to turn it upside down."

BY NO MEANS FINAL.

"Well," said the first society girl, "I heard all about your little romance while I was away."

"Yes?" inquired the other, languidly.

"Yes, I met Harold Tawker in London and he was telling me how you met your fate, became engaged and was finally married in less than a week."

"Finally married? What nonsense! Why, this is only my first venture."

TU QUOQUE.

Mistress—Lucile, ask my husband what he wants for dinner. I haven't spoken to him for a week.

Maid (tatarfully)—Neither have I!—Le Journal.
